

The End of Bipolarity

1. The Socialist Revolution in Russia in 1917 gave birth to USSR with inspiration of socialism, based on following principles:-
 - To ensure a minimum standard of living for all its citizens
 - The government subsidised basic necessities
 - Productive assets were owned and controlled by the state.
2. Russia was the only republic among fifteen republics who dominates everything and people from other regions felt neglected and often suppressed.
3. Soviet Union lagged behind the west in technology, infrastructure and could not fulfil political aspirations of people.
 - The Soviet system, however, became very bureaucratic and authoritarian, making life very difficult for its citizens.
 - Lack of democracy and the absence of freedom of speech stifled people who often expressed their dissent in jokes and cartoons.
 - Most of the institutions of the Soviet state needed reform: the one-party system represented by the Communist Party of the Soviet Union had tight control over all institutions and was unaccountable to the people.
 - Soviet invasion of Afghanistan in 1979 also weakened the system furthermore.
4. Mikhail Gorbachev, General Secretary of Communist Party of Soviet Union in 1985 initiated the policies of economic and political reforms to democratise the system which were opposed by leaders within communist party and contradictory view of people.
 - Reforms were necessary to keep the USSR abreast of the information and technological revolutions taking place in the West.
 - However, Gorbachev's decision to normalise relations with the West and democratise and reform the Soviet Union had some other effects that neither he nor anyone else intended or anticipated.

- The people in the East European countries which were part of the Soviet bloc started to protest against their own governments and Soviet control.

5. The people of republic had been fed up with old style rule of Soviet bloc and in Dec 1991, under the leadership of Boris Yeltsin (an elected leader), Russia, Ukraine and Baltics declared themselves independent.

6. The formation of Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) came as a surprise and the exclusion of these states was resolved by making them founder members of the CIS.

7. Russia was accepted as successor state of Soviet Union by inheriting a Soviet seat in UN Security Council, who accepted all international treaties and commitments of Soviet Union and carried out some nuclear disarmament measures with the US.

8. Now Soviet Union had been disintegrated on the grounds to maintain nuclear and military arsenals, awareness of people of their backwardness than western capitalism as well as alienation of ordinary people who were exempted from any kind of privileges.

9. The rise of nationalism and the desire for sovereignty within republics like Russia, the Baltic Republics (Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania), Ukraine, Georgia and others proved to be the most immediate cause for disintegration of USSR.

10. Disintegration of USSR resulted into the end of Cold War confrontations, created dominant capitalist system, emerged many new states and the advantage was taken by Central Asian countries of their geographical locations by maintaining relations with Russia, the West, the US, China and others.

11. The process of transition from an authoritarian socialist system to a democratic capitalist system in Russia, Central Asia and East Europe was influenced by World Bank and IMF came to be known as Shock Therapy.

12. Shock Therapy involved :-

- Privatisation of property,
- Private firms emergence,
- Complete switch over to free trade and Foreign Direct Investment,
- Financial opening up, Currency convertibility
- Break up of existing trade alliances among the countries of Soviet Bloc to maintain relations directly with the West.

13. Consequences of Shock Therapy :-

- The largest garage sale in history,
- Declined value of Russian Currency 'Ruble', due to inflation, food was imported,
- Destroyed Old Social Welfare System,
- Migration of educated and intellectual manpower and
- Disparities due to privatisation between rich and poor in the regions of Russia.

14. The constitution of newly democratic institutions was drafted in a hurry where strong executives appointed themselves as presidents due to weak Parliament and lack of independent judiciary as in Russia, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan.

15. Revival of Russia in 2000 due to export of natural resources like oil, natural gas and minerals which were available in abundance in Azerbaijan, Kazakhstan, Russia, Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan. And from where these pipelines crossed, were paid on rent.

16. Most of the former Soviet Republics had civil wars and insurgencies as in Russia,

- two republics Chechnya and Dagestan had violent secessionist movements, in Central Asia.
- Civil War took place in Azerbaijan and Georgia.
- Czechoslovakia was also split into two.
- Even countries and provinces like Ukraine, Kyrgyzstan, and Georgia are fighting over river water leading to instability and making life difficult for ordinary people.

17. The Central Asian Republics were rich in hydrocarbon resources for economic benefit as Oil Companies and outside powers had a competition to exploit these natural resources. Also the US approached them to hire bases and territories during wars in Iraq and Afghanistan.

18. Russia and India share a vision of

- Multipolar world order,
- Collective security,
- Greater regionalism,
- Negotiated settlements of international conflicts,
- On independent foreign policy
- Decision making through UN.

19. India is benefitted from Russia on issues of

- Kashmir,
 - Energy supplies,
 - Sharing information on international terrorism,
 - Access to Central Asia and balancing its relations with China.

In return Russia has also been benefitted from India on the ground of second largest arms market for Russia.

Alternative Centres of Power

1. After the Second World War, Europe shattered the assumptions and structures on which the European states had based their relations.
2. To revive European economy, the US introduced 'Marshall Plan' to establish organisation for European Economic Cooperation in 1948. Through OEEL, Western European States began to cooperate on trade and economic issues.
3. European Union established in 1992 .It was
 - A group of European Capitalist countries with a common foreign and security policy,
 - Cooperation on justice and home affairs and
 - Creation of single currency.
 - It has its own flag, anthem and founding date.
4. The European Union has economic, political, diplomatic and military influence as the EU is the world's biggest economy which gives it influence over its closest neighbours and in Asia and Africa. And it functions as an important bloc in international world economic organisation as the World Trade Organisation.
5. In political and diplomatic u.fluence, two members of EU, Britain and France hold permanent seat in the UN Security Council as well as non-permanent members in UNSC which enabled to influence the US policies i.e. current position on Iran's nuclear programme, use of diplomacy, economic investment and in case of a dialogue with China on human rights and environmental degradation.
6. Militarily, the EU's combined armed forces are the second largest in the world by spending second after the US and Britain and France also have nuclear arsenal. And it is the most important source of space and communications technology also.
7. Though EU bears common interests. Still its member states have their own foreign relations and defence policies that are often at odds with each other i.e. Britain favoured the US's Iraq invasion which other members of EU Germany and France opposed America's this policy. All these limit the ability of the EU to act in matters of foreign relations and defence.

8. Before and during the Second World War South East regions of Asia suffered economic political consequences of repeated colonialism as well as at the end of war it confronted with the problems of nation building which gave birth to Association of South East Asian Nations popularly known as ASEAN for uniform cooperation and interaction.
9. ASEAN was established in 1967 by five countries of this region-Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Singapore and Thailand by signing the Bangkok Declaration. Over the years Brunei, Darussalam, Vietnam, Lao PDR, Myanmar, and Cambodia made its strength to ten. Some objectives of ASEAN :
 - Accelerate economic growth.
 - Social progress and cultural development.
 - To Promote regional peace.
10. ASEAN countries celebrated the ASEAN WAY', a form of informal interaction, non-confrontation and cooperation standing on three pillars in 2003 i.e. ASEAN Security Committee, ASEAN Economic Committee and ASEAN Socio-Cultural Committee.
11. The ASEAN regional Forum (ARF), was established in 1994.
12. The ASEAN has focused on creating a Free Trade Area (FTA) for investment.
13. ASEAN VISION 2020 encourages negotiations over the conflicts in the region by mediating the end of Cambodian conflict, East U mar Crisis and meets annually to discuss East Asian Cooperation.
14. In recent years, India has also tried to make agreements with ASEAN by signing Free Trade Areas with two ASEAN members-Singapore and Thailand as well as signed on FTA with ASEAN itself.
15. China emerged as the fastest growing economy since economic reforms of 1978 to be projected to overtake the US as the world's largest economy by 2040 with the economic strength of population, land-mass, resources, regional location and political influence.
16. After independence of People's Republic of China in 1949, Soviet model of economy was adopted under the leadership of Mao by :
 - Assuring employment,
 - Social welfare,
 - Education to all and better health as China began to use its own resources
 - Grow Chinese economy at the rate of 5-6 percent.

17. China ended its political and economic isolation with major policy decisions taken in 1970s. These included :
- China-US relations establishment in 1972,
 - Four areas of modernisation (Agriculture, Industry, Science and Technology) in 1973,
 - Open door policy in 1978, privatisation of agriculture and industries in 1982 and 1990
 - Setting up of special Economic Zones.
18. Regionally and globally China is going to be recognised as an economic power due to contributory factors i.e.
- Integration and interdependency have tempered its issues with Japan, the US, ASEAN, Russia, Taiwan.
 - Even China's outward looking investment and aid policies in Latin America and Africa are projecting it as a global player.
19. Indo-China relations experienced friendly gestures at the moments, but 1950 onwards both the nations were involved in the differences on the issues of :
- Tibet problem,
 - Border issues in Arunachal Pradesh
 - Aksai Chin area of Ladakh,
 - Chinese attack in 1962 and
 - Chinese contribution to Pakistan's nuclear programme.
20. Relations between India and China began to improve slowly from the mid 1970s, by a series of talks to resolve border issues in 1981 and now these relations have strategic and economic dimensions.
21. Rajiv Gandhi's visit to China in 1988, Atal Behari Vajpayee's visit in 2003 have accommodated both the countries to maintain peace and tranquility on the border.

Contemporary South Asia

1. South Asia is referred to as a group of seven countries namely Bangladesh, Bhutan, India, Maldives, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka which stand for diversity in every sense and constitutes geo-political space.
2. The various countries in South Asia do not have the same kind of Political system .Despite many problems and limitations.Sri Lanka and India have successfully operated a democratic system.Pakistan and Bangladesh have experienced both civilian and military rules.Nepal was a consitutional monarchy with the danger of the king taking over executive powers.Bhutan is still a monarchy but the king has initiated plans for its transition to multi-party democracy.Democracy strengthened in the Maldives after the 2005 elections.
3. The Awami League led by Sheikh Mujib won all the seats in east Pakistan and secured a manjority in the proposed constituent assembly for the whole of Pakistan in the 1970,elections.
4. Bangladesh was a part of Pkistan from 1947 to 1971.During Yahya's Khan military rule Pakistan faced the Bangladesh crisis and after a war with India in 1971,East Pakistan broke away to emerge as an independent countary called Bangladesh.
5. In Pakistan, military rule and democracy are two sides of the coin because during implementation of first constitution, General Ayub Khan took the command by elections, but thrown away by military due to dissatisfaction of his rule. After 1971, an elected government was formed under the leadership of Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, removed by General Zia-ill-Haq in 1977.
6. Again in 1982, in Pakistan, by a pro-democracy protest, democratic government was established in 1988 under the leadership of Benazir Bhutto and Nawaz Sharif. Later on the history repeated and General Pervez Musharraftook the command in 1999 and got elected in 2005 to be continued till date.
7. Several factors have contributed to Pakistan's failaure in building a stable democracy.The social dominance of the military ,clergy and landowring aristocracy has led to the frequent overthrow of elected government and the establishment of military government. The lack of genuine international support for democratic rule in Pakistan has further encouraged the military to continue its dominance.

8. Bangladesh drafted its own constitution declaring faith in secularism, democracy and socialism. In 1975, Sheikh Mujibur Rehman formed presidential set up, but was assassinated in a military uprising. The new military ruler Ziaur Rahman, formed his own Bangladesh National Party and won elections in 1979. He was assassinated and another military take over followed under the leadership of Gen. H.M. Ershad. Since 1991, representative democracy has been working in Bangladesh.
9. Nepal was a Hindu Kingdom and became constitutional monarchy in modern period. The struggle for restoration of democracy began in 1990 and 2007, when king restored house of representatives. Even today Nepal is demanding the formation of constituent assembly.
10. Ceylon, presently known as Sri Lanka experienced an ethnic conflict between Sinhalese and Tamils for power sharing. LTTE demanded a separate state for Tamil 1983 onwards with the support of Indian government who sent Indian Peace Keeping Forces there which was not liked by Sri Lankans.
11. Sri Lanka has maintained a democratic political system with a considerable economic growth i.e. one of the first developing countries to control population growth rate, liberalized its economy, and bears highest per capita gross Domestic Product despite the ongoing conflicts. Sri Lanka has retained democracy since its independence in 1948.
12. India-Pakistan conflicts in South Asian region is most important to be sorted out. The wars between these countries took place in 1947-48, 1965 and 1971 on the issues of Pak Occupied Kashmir (POK) and Line of Control (LOC). Except, other issues of conflicts are control of Siachen glacier, acquisition of arms and sharing of river water.
13. Both the governments are suspicious to each other on the ground of Pakistani strategy to help Kashmiri militants and ISI to be involved in Anti-India campaign. Pakistan blames India for making trouble in Sindh and Baluchistan.
14. India conducted nuclear explosion in Pokaran 1998.
15. India and Bangladesh experienced differences over the issues of sharing of Ganga and Brahmaputra river water, illegal immigration to India, support for anti Indian-Islamic fundamentalists, refusal to allow Indian troops and not to export natural gas to India. It is the main link of India's 'Look East' Policy.

16. India and Nepal also bear differences on the issues of Nepal's relations with China and inaction against anti-Indian elements i.e. Maoists. But still both the countries signed the treaty of trade and commerce in 2005 and friendship in 2006 to provide financial and technical assistance and to allow citizens to move without visas and passport.
 17. A treaty between the two countries allows the citizens of the two countries to travel to and work in the other country without visas and passports.
 18. India and Bhutan do not share any major conflict, but attached on the issues to need out the guerillas and militants from North-eastern India and involvement of India also in big hydroelectric projects in Bhutan is the biggest source of development aid.
 19. India is supportive to Maldives in their economy, tourism and fisheries. In November 1988, India reacted quickly against an attack from Tamil Mercenaries on Maldives.
 20. In spite of the above mentioned conflicts and differences, states of South Asia recognise cooperation and friendly relations among themselves. Hence, a major regional initiative has been taken in the form of South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) in 1982. SAARC members signed South Asian Free Trade Agreements (SAFTA) to form free trade zone for the whole South Asia.

International Organizations

1. International organisations help countries to cooperate to create better living conditions all over the world and provide common platform to discuss contentious issues and find peaceful solutions, by a mechanism, rules and bureaucracy. And it also help with matters of war and peace. It is created by and responds to states.
2. The international monetary Fund (IMF) is an international organisation that oversees those financial institutions and regulations that act at the international level. The IMF has 188 members countries, but they do not enjoy an equal say.
3. The United Nations was founded as a successor to 'League of Nations' immediately after the Second World War by 51 states on 20th October 1945 with the headquarter at New York.
4. The UN has 192 member states to prevent international conflicts to facilitate co-operation. The UN's main organs are the General Assembly and Security Council. In the General Assembly all members have one vote each. In the Security Council, there are five permanent members. These are ; US, UK, Russia, France and China, who enjoy Veto Power. The UN's representative head is Secretary General.
5. The UN consists of many specialised agencies to deal with social and economic issues like WHO, UNDP, UNHCR, UNICEF, and UNESCO to work in an efficient manner and to bring world together.
6. After the Cold War some of the changes occurred which affected the functioning of the UN i.e. collapse of Soviet Union, emergence of China and India as rising powers, entry of new members, and confrontations with the challenges like genocide, civil war, ethnic conflict, terrorism, nuclear proliferation etc.
7. They faced two kinds of reforms over the time i.e. reform of organisations structure and processes and a review of the issues that fall within the jurisdiction of UN as why veto powers to permanent members only, dominance of powerful countries and to play more effective role in peace and security missions etc.
8. In the security council, there are five permanent members. The charter gave the permanent members a privileged position to bring about stability in the world after the second world war. The main privilege of the five permanent members are permanency and the veto power and after all members have a vote.

9. In 1992, the UN General Assembly adopted a resolution over the reform of UN complaining no longer representation by contemporary powers, dominance of few countries based on western values etc. Following these in January 1997, Kofi Annan, UN Secretary General initiated on "How the UN should be reformed?"
10. Since 1997 onwards, a new member to be added to the UN should fulfill the parameters of being a major economic and military power, contributor to UN Budget, a populous one, should respect democracy and human rights and to make council more representative.
11. In September 2005, the heads of all member states of the UN took the steps to make the UN more relevant by creating peace building commissions, human rights council, agreement to achieve Millennium Development Goals, condemnation of terrorism, creation of democracy fund and an agreement to wind up Trusteeship Council.
12. India is a big supporter of restructuring of the UN to promote development and cooperation among states, to composition of Security Council and to include more representation in council for its political support.
13. Being a citizen of India, we would firmly support India's candidature for the permanent membership of UN Security Council on the grounds to be second most populous country, largest democracy, initiations in the UN, economic emergence and regular financial contributor to the UN.
14. Some countries question India's inclusion as permanent members in the Security Council on the basis of its troubled relationship with Pakistan, nuclear weapon capabilities, and of India included, some emerging powers (Brazil, Germany, Japan, South Africa) will also be accommodated. France and the USA advocate that Africa and South America must be represented for they do not have any representation in the present structure.
15. The UN can not serve as a balance against US dominance because the US is the only Superpower after 1991 and may ignore any international organisation economically and-militarily, its veto power also can stop any move damaging its interests as well as enjoys a considerable say in the choice of Secretary General of the UN.
16. Despite the above mentioned strong activities of the US, the UN serves a purpose in bringing the world together in dealing with conflicts and social and economic issues. The UN provides a space within which arguments against specific US attitude and policies are heard and compromised.

17. UN'S SIGNIFICANT AGENCIES

1. International Monetary Fund (IMF)

- (a) At the international level, overseas financial institutions and regulations.
- (b) It consists of 180 members. Out of them, G-8 members enjoy more powers i.e. the US, Japan, Germany, France, the UK, Italy, Canada and Russia except China and Saudi Arabia.
- (c) The US alone enjoys 16.75% voting rights.

2. World Bank

- (a) It was created in 1944.
- (b) It works for human development, agriculture and rural development, environmental protection, infrastructure and governance and provides loans and grants to developing countries.
- (c) It is criticised for setting the economic agenda of poorer nations, attaching stringent conditions to its loans and forcing free market reforms.

3. WTO-World Trade Organisation

- (a) An international organisation to set the rules for global trade which was set up in 1995 as a successor to General Agreement on Trade and Tariffs (GATT) and has 157 members. (as on 1 September 2012)
- (b) Major economic powers such as the US, EU and Japan have managed to use the WTO to frame rules of trade to advance their own interests.
- (c) The developing countries often complain of non-transparent procedure and being pushed around by big powers.

4. IAEA-International Atomic Energy Agency

- (a) It was established in 1957 to implement US president Dwight Eisenhower's "Atoms for Peace" proposal.
- (b) It seeks to promote the peaceful use of nuclear energy and to prevent its use for military purpose.
- (c) IAEA teams regularly inspect nuclear facilities all over the world to ensure that civilian reactors are not being used for military purposes.

5. Amnesty International

- (a) An NGO to campaign for the protection of human rights all over the world.
- (b) It prepares and publishes reports on human rights to research and advocate human rights.

(c) Governments are not always happy with these reports since a major focus of Amnesty is the misconduct of government authorities.

6. Human Rights Watch

(a) Another international NGO involved in research and advocacy of human rights.

(b) The largest international human rights organisation in the US.

(c) It draws the global media's attention to human rights abuses.

(d) It helped in building international coalitions like the campaigns to ban landmines, to stop the use of child-soldier and to establish the international criminal court.

Security in Contemporary World

1. 'Security' is freedom from 'threats', security protects core values from threatening by preventing, limiting and ending the war.
2. The notions of security can be grouped into two i.e. Traditional concept and Non-traditional concept. Traditional notion includes both external and internal threats. External threats experience military war, balance of power and alliance building threats whereas internal includes internal peace and order.
3. In the Traditional conception of security, the greatest danger to a country is from military threats. The source of this danger is another country which by threatening military action endangers the core values of sovereignty independence and territorial integrity.
4. Non-traditional security focuses on human and global security by covering all of human kinds. Human security in a narrow sense protects individuals from internal violence only whereas broadly it protects from hunger, diseases and natural disasters. Global security responds to threats like global warming, international terrorism, health epidemics like AIDS, bird flu and so on.
5. A fourth component of traditional security policy is alliance building. An alliance is a coalition of states that coordinate their action to deter or defend against military attack. Most alliances are formalised in written treaties and are based on a fairly clear identification of who constitutes the threat.
6. Security policy is concerned with preventing war, which is called deterrence and with limiting or ending war, which is called defence.
7. New sources of threats include terrorism, human rights, global poverty, migration, and health epidemics. Terrorism refers to political violence targeting civilians deliberately and indiscriminately. Human rights threats involve political rights, economic and social rights as well as rights of colonised people and indigenous minorities.
8. The Anti-Ballistic Missile (ABM) Treaty in 1972 tried to stop the United States and Soviet Union from using ballistic missiles as a defensive shield to launch a nuclear attack. It stopped them from large scale production of those systems.

9. The Nuclear Non-Proliferation Treaty (NPT) of 1968 was an arms control treaty in the sense that it regulated the acquisition of nuclear weapons, those countries that had tested and manufacturing nuclear weapons before 1967 were allowed to keep their had not done so were to give up the right to acquire them.
 10. Confidence building is a process in which countries share ideas and information with their rivals. They tell each other about their military intentions and up to a point, their military plans.
 11. Human security is about the protection of people more than the protection of states. Human security and states security should be and often are the same thing.
 12. The idea of global security emerged in the 1990s in response to the global nature of threats such as global warming, international terrorism, and Health epidemics like AIDS and bird flu and so on.
 13. Global poverty suffers from low per capita income and economic growth and high population migration creates international political friction as states pursue different rules for migrants and refugees. Health epidemics cover HIV-AIDS, bird flu, and severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) through migration business, tourism and military operations.
 14. Cooperative security is required to alleviate poverty, manage migration, refugee movements and control epidemics. Cooperation may be bilateral, regional, continental or global depending on the nature of threat and willingness and ability of countries to respond either nationally or internationally.
 15. India has faced both traditional and non-traditional threats to its security. India's security strategy has four broad components i.e. strengthening military capabilities, to strengthen international norms and institutions, to meet security challenges inside the border and to develop to lift citizens out of poverty, missing and economic inequalities.

Environment and Natural Resources

1. Environmental concerns in Global politics cover losing fertility of agricultural land, and grazing, depletion of water resources as well as loss of bio-diversity, real danger to ecosystem and coastal pollution, deteriorating of marine environment.
2. Environmental consequences of economic growth acquired a political shape from 1960s onwards, following a book published in 1972 namely Limits To Growth and Initiatives taken by United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) to promote co-ordination and effective response on environment at global level.
3. The Earth Summit held in Rio-de-Janerio, Brazil in 1992 revealed different views i.e. global north (the first world countries) and global south (the third world countries). Global North was concerned with the issues of ozone depletion and global warming and global south focused on economic development and environment management by Agenda 21.
4. The Rio Summit produced conventions dealing with climate change, biodiversity, forestry and recommended a dist of development proctices called Agenda 21. But it left unresolved considerable differences and diffuculties. There was a consensus on combining economic growth with ecological responsibility. The approach to development is commonly know as 'Sustainable development'.
5. Global commons refer to the areas or regions which require common governance by international community on major problems of ecological issues i.e. discovery of ozone hole over Antarctic, earth's atmosphere and ocean floor associated with technology and industrial development.
6. The Rio Declaration at the Earth Summit in 1992 adopted the principle of common but differentiated responsibilities 'refering special needs of developing countries in the fields as development, application and interpretation of rules of international environmental law to protect environment by both developing nations in a responsible manner.
7. The 1992 United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) also emphasised to protect the climate system on the basis of equity and in accordance with their common but differentiated responsibilities and capabilities.

8. The Kyoto Protocol is an international agreement setting targets for industrialised countries to cut their greenhouse gas emissions, certain gases like carbon dioxide, methane, hydrofluorocarbon etc. are considered at least partly responsible for global warming the rise in global temperature which may have catastrophic consequences for life on earth. The Kyoto protocol was agreed to in 1997 in Kyoto in Japan, based on principles set out in UNFCCC.
9. Common property resources refer to a group who have both rights and duties with respect to nature, levels of use and the maintenance of a given resource with mutual understanding and practices i.e. management of sacred groves on state owned forest land.
10. India plays a dominating role on the environmental issues as it signed and ratified 1997 Kyoto Protocol in August 2002 to follow common but differentiated responsibilities and India is a wary of recent discussions with UNFCCC about introducing binding commitments. India participated in global efforts by introducing National Autofuel Policy, Electricity Act, 2003, the Energy conservation Act passed in 2001, outline initiatives to improve energy efficiency and National Mission on Biodiesel. Besides, India supports to adopt a common position by SAARC countries on major environmental issue to have a greater say regionwise.
11. Environmental movements are the movements of groups which are environmentally conscious to challenge environmental degradation at national or international level aiming at raising new ideas and long term vision i.e. in Mexico, Chile, Brazil, Malaysia, Indonesia, India faced enormous pressure.
12. Environmental movements are categorised as forest movements, movements against mining and mineral industry for creating Water Pollution and Anti Dam Movement.
13. 'Resources Geopolitics' is all about who gets what, when, where and how? The practices of neo-colonialism spread on a large scale and throughout a cold war, industrialised countries adopted methods to ensure a steady flow of resources by deployment of military forces near exploitation sites and sea-lanes of communications, the stock piling of strategic resources and efforts to prop up friendly governments.
14. Saudi Arabia has a quarter of the world's total reserve and is the single largest producer.
15. The global economy relied on oil as a portable and essential fuel. The history of petroleum is the history of war and struggle. Water is another important resource relevant to global politics. Regional variations and increasing scarcity of fresh water may also lead to conflicts in the world to play politics. Indigenous people bring the issues of environment, resources and politics together.

16. Indigenous people live with their social, economic, cultural customs in particular areas who speak of their struggle, agenda, and rights to have equal status i.e. Island states in ocean region, Central and South America, Africa, India and South East Asia.
17. The issues related to rights of indigenous communities have been neglected in domestic and international politics for long. The World Council of Indigenous People was formed in 1975 which became first of 11 indigenous NGOs to receive consultative status in the UN.

Globalisation

1. Globalisation is the integration of economy of a country in the process of free flow of trade and capital. It may also include 'Brain drain' across borders.
2. Globalisation increases the volume of trade in goods and services, inflow the foreign capital, increases foreign direct investment, creates new jobs, strengthens domestic economies, improves productive efficiency and healthy competition.
3. Globalisation may have negative impacts also as it failed to generate sufficient employment, modern methods of cultivation are not acquainted to less educated persons, it creates income inequality and exploits natural resources and labour force.
4. The globalisation is the result of historical factors, technological innovations, liberalisation of foreign trade and investment policies, and opening of multinational companies.
5. Globalisation consequences may be political, economical and cultural, politically stunts' capacity has received a boost with enhanced technologies to collect information about its citizens.
6. Globalisation has involved greater trade in commodities across the globe; the restrictions imposed by different countries on allowing the imports of other countries have been reduced. Globalisation has also led to the flow of ideas, across national boundaries. Ex:- Internet and Computer.
7. Economic flows in various forums, like commodity, capital, people and ideas prompts rich countries to invest their money in countries other than their own. It also draws attention towards the role of IMF and WTO in determining economic policies across the world.
8. Economic globalisation has created an intense division of opinion all over the world.
9. The world social forum (WSF) is another global platform, which brings together a wide coalition comprised of human rights activists, environmentalist, labour, youth and women activists apposed to neo-liberal globalisation. The first WSF meeting was organised in Porto Alegre, Brazil in 2001.

10. Cultural globalisation emerges and enlarges our choices and modify our culture without overwhelming the traditional norms i.e. burger can not be a substitute for masala dosa. Hence, it broadens our cultural outlook and promotes cultural homogenisation.
 11. Globalisation has been criticised on political, economic and cultural grounds i.e. politically it weakens the state by reducing its sovereignty. Economically it has made the rich richer and the poor poorer creating disparities. Culturally there has been harmed traditions and lost age old values and ways. The World Social Forum (WSF) has also opposed neo-liberal globalisation.
 12. In India, Globalisation has led to setting up of foreign companies as India realised the need for relating the Indian economy with the world by responding to 1991 financial crisis.
 13. Social movements play a role in helping people make sense of the world around them and finding ways so deal with matters that trouble them.
 14. Globalisation process includes the thrust to liberalisation or privatisation. Liberalisation proclaims freedom of trade and investment, controls allocation of resources in domestic economy, rapid technological progress whereas privatisation allows private sector and other foreign companies to produce goods and services.
 15. Resistance to globalisation in India has come from different quarters i.e. left wing protests to economic liberalisation, trade unions of industrial workforce organised protest against multinationals, the patents, resistance from political right i.e. objecting to various cultural influences of foreign T.V. channels, celebration of Valentine's Day and Westernisation of dress of girls students in schools and colleges.
 16. Environmental movements are the movements of groups which are environmentally conscious to challenge environmental degradation at national or international level aiming at raising new ideas and long term vision i.e. in Mexico, Chile, Brazil, Malaysia, Indonesia, India faced enormous pressure.
 17. Environmental movements are categorised as forest movements, movements against mining and mineral industry for creating Water Pollution and Anti Dam Movement.
 18. 'Resources Geopolitics' is all about who gets what, when, where and how. The practices of neo-colonialism spread on a large scale and throughout a cold war, industrialised countries adopted methods to ensure a steady flow of resources by deployment of military forces near exploitation sites and sea-lanes of communications, the stock piling of strategic resources and efforts to prop up friendly governments.

19. The global economy relied on oil as a portable and essential fuel. The history of petroleum is the history of war and struggle. Water is another important resource relevant to global politics. Regional variations and increasing scaring of freshwater may also lead to conflicts in the world to play politics.
 20. Indigenous people bring the issues of environment, resources and politics together. Indigenous people live with their social, economic, cultural customs in particular areas who speak of their struggle, agenda, and rights to have equal status i.e. Island states in Oceanic region, Central and South America, Africa, India and South East Asia.
 21. The issue elated to rights of indigenous communities have been neglected in domestic and international politics for long. The World Council of Indigenous People was formed in 1975 which became first of 11 indigenous NGOs to receive consultative status in the UN.
 22. Globalisation has more negative consequences than positive. These examples also show us that globalisation need not be only about the direction of influence always from the rich to the poor countries.

Challenges of Nation- Building

1. India freedom came with partition, which resulted in large scale violence and displacement and idea challenged the very of a secular India.
2. The first speech of the first Prime Minister of India, Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru at the hour of midnight on 14-15 August 1947 was known as famous "tryst with destiny" speech while addressing a special session of the Constituent Assembly.
3. Immediately after independence, there were many challenges in independent India that needed a solution i.e. a challenge to shape a nation as a united country, to develop democratic practices and to ensure development and well being by evolving effective policies for economic development and eradication of poverty and unemployment
4. Amritsar and Kolkata became divided into 'communal zones'.
5. According to the 'Two Nation Theory' advanced by the Muslim league, India consisted of not one but two 'people' Hindus and Muslims.
6. On partition of India, two nation theory was propounded by Muhammad Ali Jinnah to create a separate state for Muslims, resulted in Partition as India and Pakistan giving birth to many difficulties like problem of east and west, merging of NWFP, problems with provinces of Punjab and Bengal and the principle of religious majorities.
7. The partition of 1947 was most abrupt and unplanned which created and spread communal riots dividing country into various community zones, social sufferings to shelter in refugee camps, killing of women and separation of family members, except, it divided financial assets, employees and created conflicts between Hindus and Muslims.
8. British India was divided into British Indian provinces and princely states. Princely states enjoyed some form of control over their internal affairs under British supremacy.
9. It is estimated that the Partition forced about 80 lakh people to migrate across the new border. Between five to ten lakh people were killed in partition related violence.
10. After independence, integration of princely states into Indian Union became a great challenge due to problems like announcement by British to end paramountcy over the states' freedom to join either India or Pakistan. And the problems arose in Travancore, Hyderabad, Bhopal to further divide India.

11. The government's approach was based on three considerations i.e. will of integration of people of princely states, a flexible approach to accommodate plurality and demands of region and concern about integrity of India with peaceful negotiations in a firm diplomatic manner by Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel. Only four states' accession was difficult i.e. Junagarh, Hyderabad, Kashmir and Manipur.
12. Hyderabad was the largest princely state under the rule of Nizam who was not argued to be integrated. But the society protested against the rule of Nizam. The central government had to interfere against Razakars and in September 1948. Nizam's forces were controlled with the accession of Hyderabad.
13. Bodhachandra Singh, Maharaja of Manipur, made it a constitutional monarchy and became first state to hold elections under Universal Adult Franchises. But on sharp differences over merger of Manipur, the government of India pressurised Maharaja into signing an agreement in September 1949.
14. In the early years of reorganisation of states was felt linguistic states may foster separatism and create a pressure. Hence linguistic states were formed to change the nature of democratic policies which accepted the regional and linguistic claims and provided a uniform base to the plural nature of democracy. The State Reorganisation Commission was formed in 1953 by central government to redraw the boundaries of the states on the basis to reflect boundaries of state on behalf of different languages and led to creation of 14 states and six union territories by giving uniform basis to state boundaries.

Era of One-Party Dominance

1. After independence, our leaders became conscious of critical role of politics in a democracy as they wanted to run politics as a method to sort out problems as well as to decide and pursue the public interest.
2. Indian constitution was adopted on 26 november 1949 and signed on 24 january 1950. It came into effect on 26 january 1950.
3. The Election Commission of India was set up in January 1950 and Sukumar Sen became the first Chief Election Commissioner of India to hold elections in the country. This commission required the drawing of the boundaries of electoral constituencies, electoral roll consisting eligible voters to hold free and fair elections.
4. The first general election (1952) of India became a landmark due to its competitiveness, encouraging participation, fair results and proved its critics wrong not to hold elections in conditions of poverty.
5. In the 1952 election, Congress party scored a big victory, it won 364 seats out of the 489 seats. But it was not in power in the states like Travancore-Cochin i.e. Kerala, Madras and Orissa. Congress dominated in India due to identification with freedom struggle, popular appeal of charismatic leaders, a broad manifesto including every section of society and consensus building role of party.
6. P. Jawaharlal Nehru became the Prime minister after the first general election.
7. Congress was founded by Dr. A.O. Hume in 1885 as a view to express the feelings of discontentment changed to a political party in the form of social and ideological coalition by accommodating different social groups and individuals holding different beliefs and ideologies. Even in pre-independence days, many organisation and parties with their own constitutions and organisational structures were allowed to exist within the Congress.
8. Factions are the groups formed inside the party. The coalition nature of the Congress Party encouraged various factions which were based on either ideological considerations or personal ambitions or rivalries.

9. Before the first General Election of 1952, some of the vibrant and opposite parties came into existence which gained as a token of representation only to maintain democratic character. These parties kept ruling party under check, prevented resentment, groomed leaders, along with a mutual respect and among Congress leaders as well as opposition parties leaders.
 10. The origin of the socialist party can be traced back to the mass movement stage of the Indian National Congress which was formed in 1934 by Acharya Narendra Dev and later on, it was separated to form socialist party in 1948 with ideology of democratic socialism and criticised capitalism.
 11. In the early 1920s communist groups emerged in different parts of India having a belief of communism. The Communist Party of India was primarily secular, modern and authoritarian.
 12. The Bharatiya Jana Sangh was formed in 1951 by Shyama Prasad Mukherjee with the ideology of one country, one culture and one nation and called for a reunion of India and Pakistan in Akhand Bharat.
 13. Swatantra Party was formed in August 1959 after the Nagpur Resolution of the Congress which called for land ceilings. Its important leaders were C. Rajgopalachari, K.M. Munshi, N.G. Ranga, and Minoo Masani. Its ideology emphasised on the free economy and less involvement of government in controlling the economy and advocated closer relations with the USA.
 14. The Bharatiya Jana Sangh party was a consistent advocate of India developing nuclear weapons especially after China carried out its atomic tests in 1964.

Politics of Planned Development

1. Due to rising Global Demand for Iron, the reserved Iron-resource of Orissa has been an important investment destination to be signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) to bring in capital investment and employment opportunities. Some conflicts arose in Orissa like tribal population feared to be displaced from home and environmentalists became worried about environmental pollution.
2. 'Development' refers to process of living standard and attaining an economic level of industrial production. Immediately after independence, the Indian government took up the tasks of poverty attenuation, social and economic redistribution and development of agriculture.
3. Before independence, the need for planning was felt to set up National Planning Committee in 1930s to collect data and setting aims as well as opted for five year plans and annual budget.
4. Planning is a systematic regulation of purposeful activity to achieve national goals. India was inspired by USSR for planning to provide basic necessities of life i.e. advanced education, medical care and technological skills. 'Bombay Plan' was drafted in 1944 to make the states to take major initiatives in industrial and other economic investments.
5. The Planning Commission of India was set up in 1950 as an 'Extra-constitutional body' alongwith Prime Minister as its chairman, ministers incharge and some other members to be advisory in nature. It helps to reduce the wastage of time and increase the per capita income.
6. The first five year plan, commenced in 1951, drafted by economist KN. Roy aiming at investment in dams and irrigation, land reforms and to raise the level of National Income. It differed from second five year plans which stressed on heavy industries by bringing about quick structural transformation.
7. India did not only follow capitalist or socialist economy but adopted mixed economy to co-exist private and public sector also, to attain rapid economic development aiming at social welfare and private owned means of production to be regulated by the state.

8. Second five year plan emphasised on heavy industrialisation even in rural areas, being criticised for the creation of prosperity in urban and industrial sections at the cost of rural welfare. It was argued also on the ground to be a failure not that of policy but of its non-implementation of politics of land owning classes.
 9. During the planning period, the Agrarian sector witnessed a serious attempt at land reforms to abolish Zamindari system, consolidate the lands. These were not much successful due to some drawbacks i.e. people violated laws under considerable political influence and some laws remained only on papers.
 10. Between 1965 and 1967, severe droughts occurred in many parts of country and it was in Bihar to feel a famine situation. On the other hand food prices also hit a high in Bihar and due to government's policy of zoning, trade of food across states was prohibited, which reduced the availability of food in Bihar.
 11. The Green Revolution emphasised on new strategies of agricultural practice to be offered by government i.e. high yielding variety of seeds, fertilizers, pesticide better irrigation at highly subsidised prices. Green Revolution produced favourable conditions for poor peasants and made the 'Middle Peasant Sections' politically influential Green Revolution had some negative effects also i.e. it created a gap between landlords and poor and it delivered only a moderate agricultural growth.
 12. In 1970 the rural development programme called Operation Flood was started. Operation Flood organised cooperatives of milk producers into a nationwide milk grid, with the purpose of increasing milk production, bringing the producers and consumer closer by eliminating middlemen and assuring the producers a regular income throughout the year.
 13. The 'White Revolution' in Gujarat was started by Varghese Kurien known as the Milkman of India'. He launched Gujarat Cooperative Milk and Marketing Federation Ltd., which further launched 'Amul'. The Amul pattern became a uniquely appropriate model for rural development and poverty alleviation which came to be known as white revolution.
 14. The Kerala model was based on 'Decentralised Planning' to focus on education, health, land reforms, effective food distribution and poverty alleviations taken initiative to involve people in making plans at panchayat, blocs and district level.

India's External Relations

1. After independence India faced the twin challenges of Welfare and democracy. Moreover India started participating in the world affairs as an independent nation state with the overall context like the legacy of many international disputes left by the British, pressures created by partition and poverty alleviation.
2. India was born in the backdrop of world war, hence it decided to conduct foreign relations with an aim to respect the sovereignty of other nations to achieve security through maintenance of peace. For this, India laid down directive Principles of State Policy in the Article 51 of Indian Constitution.
3. The foreign policy of a nation is the interplay of domestic and external factors. Pt. J.L.Nehru was the 'Chief Architect of India's Foreign Policy'. He exercised profound influence in the formulation and implementation of India's foreign policy from 1946 to 1964.
4. The three major objectives of Nehru's foreign policy were to preserve the hard-earned sovereignty, protect territorial integrity and promote rapid economic development.
5. Nehru's Era established the contacts between India and States in Asia and Africa by convening conferences on Asian Relations (March 1947), Indonesia's Freedom Struggle (1949), decolonisation process, and engaged herself in Bandung Conference in 1955 with the newly independent Asian and African Nations.
6. During the cold war, the US-led organisation (NATO) and the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact came into existence.
7. The Afro-Asian conference held in the Indonesian city of Bandung in 1955, commonly known as the Bandung conference, marked the zenith of India's engagement with the newly independent Asian and African nations.
8. The first summit of the NAM was held in Belgrade in September 1961. Pt. J. Nehru was a co-founder of the NAM.
9. Panchsheel, the five principles of peaceful co-existence (29 April 1954) between India and China was a stronger step towards friendship and relations. India advocated China's new government as a communist even in the UN after Chinese revolution in 1949 to ahead a friendly step.

10. India and China began to conflict on annexation of Tibet by China and suppressed Tibetan culture also. China claimed Aksai Chin area and NEFA within the Indian territory, which differences could not be resolved despite correspondence and discussions and led India to indulge in conflict.
11. India and Pakistan conflicted on initiative of Pakistan's serious armed conflict over Kashmir issue in 1965. India Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistan's General Ayub Khan signed the Tashkent Agreement, brokered by the Soviet Union, in January 1966. But 1965 war added to India's already difficult economic situation.
12. India's foreign policy reflects her desire to be an important regional power which reflected during Bangladesh War 1971, when there were clashes between East and West Pakistan and India supported freedom struggle in Bangladesh and declared unilateral ceasefire with the surrender of Pakistan. India and Pakistan signed Shimla Agreement on 3rd July 1972 to formalise the return of Peace.
13. India's Nuclear Policy advocates no first use and reiterates India's commitment to global verifiable on non-discriminatory nuclear disarmament leading to nuclear weapons free world. Pt. J.L. Nehru was against nuclear weapons, so he placed nuclear disarmament and considered NPT as discriminatory and India has always been committed to use these weapons for peaceful purposes.

Challenges to and Restorations of the Congress System

1. Prime Minister Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru passed away in May 1964. The 1960s were labeled as 'dangerous decade' due to some unresolved problems like poverty, inequality, communal and regional divisions etc.
2. India mainly faced two challenges from 1964 to 1966 during Lal Bahadur Shastri's reign like 'Economic Crisis' due to Indo-China War of 1962 and Indo-Pak War of 1965 and failed Monsoons, droughts and food crisis which was symbolised as a famous slogan to resolve the issues like 'Jai Jawan Jai Kisan'.
3. The Congress Party faced the challenge of political succession for the Lal Bahadur Shastri was a non-controversial leader from Uttar Pradesh. Second time after the death of Lal Bahadur Shastri with an intense competition between Morarji Desai and Indira Gandhi to resolved through a secret ballot among Congress MPs. Indira Gandhi defeated Morarji Desai and a peaceful transition of power was seen as a 'Sign of Maturity of India's Democracy'.
4. The government of Indira Gandhi decided to devalue the Indian rupee in order to check economic crisis of 1967. Consequently, one US dollar could be purchased for less than Rs. 5 after devaluation which cost more than Rs. 7. The economic situation triggered off price rise.
5. The Congress Party's decision of devaluation gave birth to the concept of Non-Congressism with different programmes and ideologies to form anti-Congress fronts. It was claimed to be necessary for democratic purposes.
6. The fourth general election was held in 1967, not be in favour of Congress. The political leaders like Kamraj in Tamilnadu, S.K. Patil in Maharashtra, Atulya Ghosh in West Bengal and K.B. Sahay in Bihar were defeated alongwith majority lost mother states also for the very first time any non-Congress party has secured majority including coalition government consisting of different non-Congress parties which were termed as 'Political earthquake'.
7. The election of 1967 brought the phenomenon of coalitions which was formed together by joint legislature parties to be called SVD i.e. Samyukt Vidhayak Dal. The SVD in Bihar included the two socialist parties-SSP and PSP alongwith CPI on the left and Jana Sangh on the right. In Punjab it was called popular United Front and comprised the two rival Akali Parties at that time.

8. The constant realignment and shifting political loyalties in this period(1967) gave rise to the expression 'Aya Ram,Gaya Ram'.
9. Immediately, after 1967, Indira Gandhi faced two challenges to build her independence from 'Syndicate' and to regain ground which were lost in 1967 elections by Congress. And Indira Gandhi adopted a very bold strategy as she converted it into ideological struggle, launched a series of initiatives and got the Congress Working Committee to adopt 'Ten Point Programme' in 1967 including social control of Banks, Nationalisation of General Insurance, Ceiling on Urban Property and Income, Public Distribution of Food Grains, Land Reforms etc.
10. Syndicate : It was the informal name given to a group of Congress leader like K. Kamraj, S.K.Patil, N. Sanjeeva Reddy, Atulya Ghosh who were in control of Party as organisation i.e. within Congress. Syndicate had a greater say in Indira Gandhi's first council of Ministers and in Policy formulations and implementations. After split, Congress (O) and Indira led - Congress (R) formed which won the popularity after 1971.
11. The formal split in Congress (Syndicate and Indira Gandhi) came into open in 1969 on nomination of candidate for president's post. Diplomatically, Indira Gandhi's candidates won over syndicate's candidate (V.V. Giri over N. Sanjeeva Reddy), which formalised the split in Congress into two separate parties i.e. Congress (O) i.e. organisation led by syndicate known as a 'Old Congress' and Congress (R) t.e. requisitionists led by Indira Gandhi known as 'New Congress'.
12. Everyone believed that real organisational strength was under command of Congress (O), on the other hand, all major parties like SSP, PSP, Bharatiya Jana Sangh, Swatantra Party and Bharatiya Kranti Dal also formed 'Grand Alliance' against Indira Gandhi with a common programme of 'Indira Hatao'.
13. Garibi hatao : Indira Gandhi captured this famous slogan in election in 1971.Through garibi hatao Indira Gandhi tried to generate a support base among the disaduantaged, especially among the landless laboures, Dalits and adivasis, minorities, women and the unemployed youth as well as focused on growth of public sector, imposition of ceiling on rural land holdings and Urban property and removal of disparity etc and succeeded to build an independent nationwide political support base during election contest of 1971.

14. Indira Gandhi did not revive old Congress Party but she re-invented the party by forming an entirely different popular party to accommodate some social groups, the poor, the women, the dalits, adivasis and the minorities. Thus, Indira Gandhi restored the Congress system by changing the nature of Congress system itself.

The Crisis of the Democratic Order

1. In 1967, Congress party competition become bitter and polarised. This period also witnessed tension in the relationship between the government and the judiciary.
2. In the election of 1971, Congress had given the slogan of "Garibi Hatao" (remove poverty).
3. The first nationwide Satyagraha was organised by Jayaprakash Narayan for Indira Gandhi's resignation. He made people aware not to obey illegal and 'immoral orders' by a massive demonstration in Delhi's Ramlila ground on June 25, 1975 as well as Indira Gandhi's elections were also declared invalid on grounds to use government servants in the election campaign on an election petition filed by Raj Narain, a socialist leader.
4. In March 1974, Bihar students protest against rising prices, food scarcity, unemployment and corruption.
5. The Naxalite movement has used force to snatch land from the rich landowners and give it to the poor and the landless.
6. Railway strike of 1974 was called by 'National Coordination Committee' led by George Fernandes for pressing their demands related to bonus and service conditions. The government was opposed to these demands and the strike was called off after twenty days without any settlement.
7. Before the declaration of emergency, many differences arose between the government and the ruling party leading to a strain between judiciary, legislature and executive on issues of intervention in constitutional provisions by government or parliament. It was proved in the case of Kesavananda Bharti, where the judiciary declared that parliament cannot amend in constitutional basic features in a controversial manner. It mixed up constitutional interpretations and political ideologies rapidly.
8. In response to Raj Narain's petition, on 25 June 1975 the government declared emergency on recommendation of Prime Minister on a ground of threat of international disturbances, which invoked Article 352 of Constitution to bring law and order, restore efficiency and above all, implement the pro-poor welfare programmes.
9. The proclamation of Emergency in 1975 had far reaching consequences and affected every spheres of life such as: Strikes were bonned, many opposition leaders were put in jail, suspended the freedom of the press (press censorship), apprehending social and communal disharmony, banned RSS, and Jamail-e-Islami, protests and strikes and public agitation were also disalloewed. Most importantly, under the provision of emergency, the various Fundamental Rights stood suspended. The 40 second amendment was also passed during the emergency.

10. In April 1976, the constitution bench of the Supreme court over-ruled the High courts and accepted the government's plea. It meant that during emergency the government could take away the citizen's right to life and liberty.
11. Shah Commission : In May 1977, the Janta Party government appointed a commission of enquiry headed by Justice J.C. Shah, retired Chief justice of India. The commission examined various kind of evidence and called scores of witness to give testimonies. The government of India accepted the findings, observations and recommendations contained in the two interim reports and third and final report of the Shah Commission.
12. Emergency taught many lessons firstly, to be difficult to do away with democracy, secondly, necessary the advice to proclaim emergency in writing (by president) by council of ministers, thirdly, it made everyone more aware of the value of civil liberties.
13. As soon as the emergency was over and the Lok Sabha elections were announced in 1977 to be turned into a referendum. Hence politics after emergency was characterised by two major developments:
14. (a) 1977 elections defeated Congress on people's verdict against emergency and opposition fought on the slogan 'save democracy'.
15. (b) Mid term elections 1980 were held due to Janata Party lacked direction, leadership and a common programme as well as could not bring any fundamental change the policies pursued by Congress.
16. The legacy of emergency of 1975 was felt in every spheres of life and the politics which can be described as a period of constitutional and political crisis to have its origin in constitutional battle over the jurisdiction of the parliament and the judiciary.

Regional Aspirations

1. 1980s may be seen as a period of rising regional aspirations creating various regional movements which conclude in a negotiated settlement or accords between the governments groups. Indian approach maintained a balance in the principles of unity and diversity even by redrawing the internal boundaries of country in response to preserve the culture of different regions and linguistic groups.
2. Immediately after independence, India had to cope up with the issues of partition, displacement, integration of princely states and reorganisation of states i.e. Jammu and Kashmir issues political aspiration, North-East had no consensus to be a part of India and Dravidian movement briefly toyed with the idea of separate country.
3. Article 370: The article gives great autonomy to Jammu and Kashmir compared to other states of India.
4. Jammu and Kashmir comprises three social and political regions ; Jammu, Kashmir, Ladakh. The heart of the Kashmir region is the Kashmir valley; the people are Kashmiri speaking and mostly muslim with a small Kashmiri speaking Hindu minority.
5. During most of the period between 1953 to 1974, Congress exercised a lot of influence on the politics of Jammu and Kashmir. Finally in 1974, Sheikh became Chief Minister of the state. Except it, from 1989, separatist politics was also surfaced in Kashmir with the stronger demand for intra state autonomy rather than state autonomy. In present scenario, most of separatist in dialogue are trying to re-negotiate a relationship of the state with India.
6. The Akali Dal, was formed in 1920s as the political wing of the Sikhs had led the movement for the formation of a 'Punjabi Suba'. After the reorganisation the Akalis came to power in 1967 and then in 1977, On both the occasions it was a coalition government.
7. In Punjab, Anandpur Sahib Resolution was passed at the conference of Akali Dal at Anandpur Sahib in 1973 to ascertain regional autonomy and to redefine centre-state relationship. It had a limited appeal and Akali government was dismissed in 1980. Afterwards, the movement launched by Akali Dal took the form of armed insurgency and resolution became controversial.

8. Operation Blue Star; Akalis militants made their headquarters inside the the Golden Temple in Amritsar & turned it into an armed fortress. In June 1984, the government of India carried out 'Operation Blue Star', code name for army action in the Golden Temple. In this operation the government could successfully flush out the militants, but also damaged the historical temple & deeply hurt the sentiments of the Sikhs.
9. Prime Minister Indira Gandhi was assassinated on 31 October 1984 outside her residence by her body guards.
10. In 1985, Punjab accord was signed between Rajiv Gandhi and Harchand Singh Longowal, President of Akali Dal to transfer Chandigarh, appointment of a commission to resolve order dispute and agreement for compensation to better treatment. But peace did not come easily, violence led many excesses and fragmentation of Akali Dal. Hence, it led to president's rule in the state. In 1997, first normal elections in Punjab were held in post militancy era and alliance of Akali Dal and BJP scored a major victory.
11. The North-East region consisted of seven states referred to as 'Seven Sisters'. The region shares boundaries with China, Myanmar and Bangladesh and serves as India's gateway of south-east Asia.
12. The reorganisation of North-East was complete by 1972 but did not end the autonomy demands i.e. Bodos, Karbis, Dimasas demanded separate state in Assam and issues were resolved with the grant of some autonomy to these issues. Even 'Assam Accord' was signed over the issue of 'Outsiders' in Assam in 1985.
13. Nagaland state was created in 1963, Manipur, Tripura and Meghalaya in 1972 while Mizoram and Arunachal Pradesh became separate states only in 1987.
14. In 1979, the All Assam Students Union (AASU) a students group not affiliated to any party, led an anti-foreigner movement. The Assam movement was a combination of cultural pride and economic backwardness as it was against outsiders to maintain cultural integration and poverty, unemployment also existed despite natural resources like oil, tea and coal.
15. Regional aspirations range from demands of statehood and economic development to autonomy and separation were coming up which taught many lessons to us i.e. expression of regional issues is not an abnormal phenomenon, to respond through democratic negotiations, power sharing among groups and parties, economic development of region and flexible federal system.

Recent Development in Indian Politics

1. During the decade of eighties, five developments took place in country with long lasting impact i.e. End of Congress system in 1980, Mandal Issues in 1990, New Economic Reforms in 1991, Ayodhya dispute in 1992 and Assassination of Rajiv Gandhi in 1991.
2. Elections in 1989 led an era of coalitions with the defeat of Congress Party and it emerged several parties when no single party secured a clear majority of seats in any Lok Sabha election held since 1989 and in this era, regional parties played a crucial role in forming ruling alliances.
3. Atal Behari Vajpayee was the Prime Minister during NDA governments and his government formed in 1999 completed its full term.
4. The nineties also saw the emergence of powerful parties and movements to represent the Dalits and backward castes as well as regional assertions. Now, there have been nine governments at the centre which have either been coalition government or minority governments supported by other parties or regional parties only.
5. OBC : This refers to the administrative category 'other backward classes'. There are communities other than SC and ST who suffer from educational and social backwardness. These are also referred to as 'backward castes'.
6. The Mandal Commission : The Mandal Commission was set up to investigate the extent of educational and social backwardness among various sections of Indian society and recommend ways of identifying these 'backward classes'. The commission gave its recommendations in 1980. The commission did survey and found that these backward castes had a very low presence in both services.
7. The Mandal Issue started with the national front government's decision to implement the recommendation of Mandal Commission that jobs in central government should be reserved for other backward classes leading to violent anti-mandal protest in country between supporters and opponents of OBC reservations.⁹
8. The constituents of Janata Party like Bharatiya Kranti Dal and the 'Samyukt Socialist Party' had a powerful rural base among some sections of the OBCs as well as BAMCEF, i.e.

Backward and Minority Classes Employees Federation was formed in 1978 taking strong position in favour of political power to Bahujan-the SC, ST, OBCs and minorities. It resulted the rise of the (BSP) Bahujan Samaj Party under the leadership of Kanshi Ram.

9. Hindutva literally means Hinduism defined by its originator V.D. Savarkar as basis of Indian nationhood to be members of Indian nation everyone must not only accept India as their fatherland 'Pitrubhu' but also as their hold land 'Punjabhu'.
10. The Bahujan Samaj Party (BSP) emerged under the leadership of Kanshi Ram.
11. Ayodhya Issue was started with the demolition of the Bahri Masjid in Ayodhya in December 1992 to symbolise various changes in politics and debates about Indian nationalism and secularism. These developments are associated with the rise of BJP and Politics of 'Hindutva'.
12. The Political processes after the 1990s, showed the emergence of broadly four groups of parties i.e. parties in coalition with Congress, parties in alliance with BJP, left front parties, others who are not part of the rest to make political competition multi-concerned.
13. The Anti-Muslim Riots took place in the form of violence against Muslims through an incident at a station called Godhra 2002 when a bogey, full of Karsevaks was set on fire and suspected the hand of Muslims in it. Human Rights Commission criticised Gujarat government's role in failing to control violence and showed that government machinery also becomes susceptible to passion and alert us to dangers involved in using religious sentiments for political purposes.
14. In the midst of severe competition and many conflicts, a consensus appears to have emerged among most parties consisting of main four elements, i.e. Agreement or new economic policies, acceptance of political and social claims of backward classes, acceptance of role of state level Parties in governance of country and emphasis on pragmatic considerations rather than ideological positions and political alliances without ideological agreement.
15. In coalition government, several political parties cooperate reducing the dominance of any one party within that coalition. In it, government is formed on the basis of common minimum programme. The main reason behind this arrangement is that no party gets majority on its own in the Parliament. Coalition government is also created in the time of national crisis such as war time or economic crisis. If a coalition collapses, confidence vote is held or a motion of no-confidence is taken.
16. Coalition government in context of India from 2004-2009 and 2009-2014 respectively:

After the parliamentary elections in May 2014, National Democratic Alliance (NDA) came into power with Mr. Narendra Modi as the Prime Minister. Although the BJP had got full majority on its own. At the national level, the first coalition government of India was formed under the Prime Ministership of Morarji Desai that existed from 24 March, 1977 to 15 July 1979 headed by the Janta party. This government could not complete its tenure. The first coalition government in India which successfully completed its 5 year term was the Bharatiya Janata Party led National Democratic Alliance with Mr. Atal Behari Vajpayee as Prime Minister from 1999-2004. The other coalition, the United Progressive Alliance (UPA) consisted of thirteen separate parties from all over the country ruled for two terms successfully.
